

PROHIBITION OFFICER ORT DOES FIRST JOB FRIDAY EVENING

State Prohibition Officer Harry A. Ort Gets Information on Illicit Still in Field Made on Friday Evening.

On Friday evening Prohibition Officer Harry A. Ort swooped down on several of the alleged local bootleggers and, it is understood, procured very valuable information which may lead to the discovery of several illicit stills in this section of the state.

Chief Ort showed his ability as a sleuth in this case when he saw suspicious actions on the part of three or four men. After some time, he took in charge William Ridd, East Second street grocer, who is now under bond on a bootlegging charge for his examination before the Mason county grand jury. Chief Ort found a pint of moonshine liquor and a part of a quart on Ridd's person.

Ridd was taken up only as a witness by the prohibition officer and he and the other men found with him were questioned. At first Ridd would give Capt. Ort little information but the officer later, it is understood, obtained an affidavit from Ridd which may lead to considerable investigation on the part of officials and may lead to the arrest of several in this section of the state on bootlegging charges. Some stills may also be uncovered in this investigation which will begin at once.

COMMITTEE TO CALL ON BUSINESS MEN FOR BASEBALL

Interesting Meeting Held Friday Evening on Baseball for This Year—Pastor Suggests Half-Holiday.

Quite a number of local baseball enthusiasts were present at a meeting held at the Council Chamber Friday evening in the interest of having baseball in Mayville for the coming summer. Mr. T. M. Russell, temporary president of the Bluegrass League, was in charge of the meeting and explained the prospects of Mayville getting a berth in either the re-organized Bluegrass of the K. I. O. league.

The meeting appointed a committee composed of A. M. January, Judge H. P. Purnell, Judge William Keaton, Claude Watkins, Dr. J. H. Hutchins, E. L. Willett and Lee Dresel to call on the local business men to ask financial aid in financing a club.

Rev. John Mullen, pastor of the Christian church, made a plea against Sunday baseball and suggested that the local merchants give a half-holiday during the week that all might attend baseball games instead of on Sunday afternoon. Banker E. L. Willett made an interesting talk explaining that Sunday afternoon was the only time workers could enjoy baseball and Rev. Mullen suggested the half-holiday as a solution to this matter.

PICKETING FORBIDDEN IN ADDITION MADE TO ORDER

Federal Judge Cochran In Making Restraining Order Temporary Injunction, Adds Paragraph Which Forbids Picketing.

Picketing by strikers and sympathizers at or near the Newport Rolling Mill has been forbidden by federal injunction as a result of the action taken by United States Judge A. M. J. Cochran Friday in making a temporary injunction restraining strike sympathizers from interfering with the operation of the mill a preliminary injunction.

The order making the temporary mandate a preliminary injunction, generally a more formality, proved a veritable bombshell Friday when Judge Cochran added a paragraph forbidding picketing to the original order.

The order forbidding picketing follows:

"The defendants are also enjoined until further order of this court from maintaining at or near the premises of the plaintiff company any pickets. The order as to picketing is made because of the extraordinary cases of violence shown by the affidavits accompanying this bill. If picketing should hereafter be desired an application to that effect will be heard and considered at any time it may be made."

(Signed) "A. M. J. COCHRAN," "United States Judge."

The changing of the temporary order to a preliminary injunction makes it permanent in character unless another petition or application of either defendants or plaintiff is acted on by the court. The defendants named in the injunction are officials of Newport unions, strikers and strike sympathizers.

As a result of this order troops on duty at the mill will be empowered to arrest any or all persons found loitering in the vicinity of the mill.

McCormack of Louisville, secretary of the Kentucky State Board of Health, at the session of the central Kentucky conference on social hygiene and sex education at the Lafayette hotel.

"As long as Kentucky ranks high in ignorance, she will rank high in the results, the spread of disease and other menaces to the welfare of the commonwealth," he declared. "Every child must be told of important sex problem early in life to meet successfully later problems."

A health certificate and a reasonably complete family history was a requisite for a marriage license was urged at the afternoon session by Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, zoology professor at the University of Kentucky.

Edward Byron Very Painfully Injured When Team of Young Horses Ran Away With Him Friday Morning.

Edward Byron, young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Byron, of West Third street, was rather painfully injured Friday morning when a team of young horses he was driving ran away with him on the Lewisburg hill and threw him onto the pile.

Young Byron works on the farm of Mr. Thomas Gantley in the county and was returning to the farm from Mayville Friday when a breast chain on one of his horses broke and the young animals frightened. He held them in the road for a considerable distance until the wagon struck a machine and he was thrown out. He suffered a broken collar bone and several severe bruises on his face and legs.

Dr. Robb, of Helena, dressed the wounds and he was removed Friday evening to the home of his parents in this city.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY INVESTIGATING ATTACK IN ADAMS

Judge Stephenson Calls Special Grand Jury At West Union to Investigate Attack Upon Rural Route Carrier.

West Union, Ohio, Feb. 24. — A special grand jury will be impaneled in the Adams county common pleas court by Judge Will P. Stephenson at 10 o'clock this morning, the principal work of which will be to probe the mysterious attack made upon Ira Shell Monday night of last week by a masked man, who after gaining entrance to the attic, poured ether over Mr. Shell's head through a hole that had been made in the ceiling of the bedroom, the full details of the thrilling occurrence being published in our last week's issue.

No local case within memory has created such deep interest and aroused such widespread indignation among our citizens as this attack upon Mr. Shell in what appears to have been a plot to take his life, and our citizens are insistent upon a more thorough investigation of the affair, in an effort to bring the guilty to justice.

While in session the grand jury will extend their investigation to cover an inquiry into numerous burglary cases, in which several arrests have already been made.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION SHAKES CITY OF CHICAGO.

Chicago, Feb. 25. — Chicago and dozens of Illinois suburbs learned today just what caused the explosion which caused intense excitement last night. Damage caused by the explosion is estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars. There is little to show the effect of the blast at the spot where it occurred. A great hole in the ground, some 50 feet wide and 200 feet long, marks the place.

Thirty tons of dynamite let go in a stone quarry southwest of the city shortly before 1 o'clock, and hundreds of thousands of alarmed residents went to bed not knowing just what happened to shake them up.

OUR POLICY:

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

REAL DEFINITION OF THRIFT.

Do you really understand just what thrift means? Many people do not. Too many consider the word as a synonym for hoarding or for stinginess. It means nothing of the kind. To practice thrift does not mean that you must put a padlock on your pocketbook.

The Joplin (Mo.) Globe hits the nail squarely on the head when it says: "If you can buy a city lot for $200 that is really worth $100 more, and if you have the $200 available, it is plain that it wouldn't be thrift to refuse to make the investment. It would be unthrifty not to make it. And if you can buy an overcoat for $20 that will cost you $25 or $30 next fall, when you are going to have to buy one, it would be unthrifty not to make the investment."

Thrift means taking advantage of money-making opportunities. But it also means refraining from those useless expenditures that keep your pocketbook so thin you can not make investments when they are offered.

One of the best methods of practicing thrift is to keep your dollars everlastingly on the job. When you invest your money in New Issue Treasury Savings Certificates your money is yielding a good rate of interest, yet in case of emergency or for business reasons you are in need of cash, the certificates can be redeemed at the Treasury Department at their original cost, plus interest at the rate of about 5 1/2 per cent, per annum, compounded semi-annually.

The average citizen has for many years looked with horror upon the extravagance of our National, state or county governments, but they never seemed to stop and think that governments are only reflecting the spirit of the individuals that go to make them up. Whenever the American people really begin to practice thrift in their everyday lives, then they will insist on having that sort of a government. As it is today, the Federal Government is really taking the lead in the practice of thrift. President Harding is insisting on a policy of the strictest economy in governmental expenditures, and he is being backed up to the limit by the Bureau of the Budget and the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations.

Unfortunately, America still is looked upon as a spendthrift Nation. Many good citizens do not enjoy the reputation of being thrifty. On the other hand, there are, of course, many who are steadily forging ahead. But the big majority continue to operate in a hand-to-mouth fashion, spending today what they make today, or perhaps what the expect to make tomorrow.

Thrift means getting ready for the inevitable rainy day by saving money to use and using it. Don't hide your savings; invest them. The Government's Unified Savings System provides a safe and profitable way.

PROSPERITY JUST OVER THE HILL.

America will be as prosperous as you as an individual help to make it. There can be no complete restoration of prosperity until the world's stores of working capital has been reestablished. The Nation has no wealth other than that owned by its citizens. Saving is not an end in itself. It is of permanent value to the individual and to the Nation only when it is followed by the investment of the same saved in useful and productive enterprises.

Ont in Gloucester, Ohio, the other day at patron of the postoffice purchased four of the New Issue $1,000 Treasury Saving Certificates. Postmaster A. J. Price, of Gloucester, in reporting the sale, said:

"Inclosed draft for $3,200, which represents the savings of a patron of this office for the past 22 years. He brought the money to the postoffice and in the conversation that ensued I was informed that he had been keeping this money in his home and carrying it on his person during all these years."

Within the next five years this investment will yield the Ohio man interest to the amount of $800. Every dollar that you may have hoarded is only serving to retard prosperity. The time has come for the mobilization of the idle dollars of the United States. These slacker dollars will start the wheels of industry moving, and will provide work for the Nation's great army of idle men.

New capital must be provided before the country can enter upon a new era of prosperity. This capital can be provided for the revival of industry only through the savings of the people.

It is high time to banish financial hysteria and industrial anemia from this broad land. We have the richest country on the face of the earth; the Nation's finances are sound and its credit is the best in the world. It is the patriotic duty of every good American to get back of the Government's Unified Savings program and make the movement a success.

Through the coordination of Postal Savings and Treasury Savings activities the Government has provided a safe, attractive, and profitable means of providing employment for your savings. Postal Savings Stamps may be purchased for 10 cents each. Ten of these can be converted into an interest bearing Postal Savings account. Treasury Savings Stamps, noninterest bearing, are offered in $1 denominations. Twenty of these can be exchanged for a $25 (maturity value) Treasury Saving Certificate.

THE FARMER MUST BE WATCHFUL.

Let the farmer keep his weather eye open when he considers taking advantage of a legislation aimed at greatly enlarging his borrowing capacity. The adage "Beware the Greeks Bearing Gifts" may not fit the situation with a nicely, but it may be well to remember that borrowed money is easily squandered while that earned by the sweat of the brow usually is carefully conserved. Relief must be afforded of course, and it will be afforded, because if the nation's prosperity is not to be dangerously checked the expansion of farmer credit is inevitable. However, washing all the confusing technicality speaks off the picture and looking at it through plain horse sense glasses the farmer never will have a cent of money lent to him except it be on security that is unquestionable, legislation or no legislation, and when money is borrowed there is established a lien on the farmer's production and correspondingly a certain domination of distribution and the fundamentals of business management. Care must be taken that the financial interests do not get too strong a grip on the agricultural group of our American life. It is obvious that farmers, particularly small farmers, cannot operate on short time loans but they should be cautious if opportunity is presented to them to get money with such ease that its value will be lost to sight. It is easy to drift down the stream, but there must be a day of reckoning—always a day of accounting and settling up. The role of domination must be played by the farmer, not by the financier.

INCOME-TX FACTS.

Heavy penalties are provided by the revenue act of 1921 for failure or "willful refusal" to make a required income tax return any at least one-fourth of the tax on time—on or before March 15 if the return is filed on a calendar year basis. If a taxpayer makes his return on the basis of a fiscal year it should be filed on or before the 15th of the third month following the close of the fiscal year.

For failure to file a return on time a taxpayer becomes liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 and a further penalty of 25 per cent. of the amount of the tax, unless he later files a return and it is satisfactorily shown that the delinquency was due to a reasonable cause and not to willful neglect. For willful refusal to make a return and pay the tax on time a taxpayer becomes subject to a fine of not more than $10,000 or one year's imprisonment, or both, together with the costs of prosecution, and a penalty of 25 per cent. of the amount of the tax. If any installment is not paid when due the whole amount of the tax unpaid becomes due and payable upon notice and demand by the collector, and if not paid within 10 days after such demand a 5 per cent. penalty accrues with interest at the rate of 1 per cent a month until paid.

When a return is made in good faith and an understatement of the amount of the tax therein is due to no fault of the taxpayer, no penalty attaches, but interest attaches to the amount of the deficiency at the rate of one-half of 1 per cent per month. If the understatement is due to negligence or to intentional disregard of authorized rules and regulations with knowledge thereof, but without intent to defraud, there is to be added 5 per cent. of the total amount of the deficiency plus interest at the rate of 1 per cent per month from the time the tax was due. If the understatement is false with intent to evade the tax the penalty is a fine of not more than $10,000 or one year's imprisonment, or both, together with the costs of prosecution, and 50 per cent. of the total amount of the deficiency which is added by the assessment to the tax.

If for any reason a return can not be filed by the due date, application may be made to the collector or internal revenue of the district in which the taxpayer lives or has his principal place of business, setting forth the facts as to the taxpayer's inability to file on time. Upon showing a reasonable excuse, such as absence, illness, etc., the collector may grant an extension of time not to exceed 30 days in which to file the return. If further extension of time is required application must be made to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, the collector having authority to grant only an extension not to exceed 30 days.

The commissioner may grant an extension on a reasonable cause shown, not exceeding six months. This six months' limitation, however, is not applicable to taxpayers who are abroad. When the payment of a partly installment is postponed at the request of a taxpayer there is added as part of such installment, until paid, interest at the rate of one-half of 1 per cent a month from the date the installment would have been due. If no extension has been granted.

Collectors. If request is made, are required to give to taxpayers written or printed receipts for income, excess-profits and war-profits taxes, stating the amount paid and the particular account for which such payment was made. Payments may be made either at the offices of collectors of internal revenue or branch offices, either in cash or by money order or check. Checks and money orders should be made out to the collector of internal revenue in the city in which the collector's office is located. For example: "Collector of Internal Revenue, Baltimore, Md." The Bureau of Internal Revenue advises that payments be made either by check or money order, as this method saves a trip to the collector's office and insures avoidance of congestion during the closing days of the tax filing period. If a check received by the collector is not paid by

SLAVE GIRL, 20, JAP. MILLIONAIRE.

Twenty years ago, while on her way to school, a little Japanese girl was kidnapped and carried off into slavery. She was rescued a short time ago by a Japanese lumber king, who has decided to make her his wife.

It was while on a visit to China that the wealthy Mr. Fuhuda came upon the girl. At Antung, the great Chinese lumber market, he was invited to witness a performance of itinerant Chinese players. The girl was among the performers, and the millionaire, when she appeared, felt convinced that she was a Japanese. He sought her out next day, when the girl told him the whole story.

She said that every train that would have taken her nearer home had tempted her, but she was never allowed out of sight.

Mr. Fuhuda enlisted the aid of the Japanese Consul, who soon secured the girl's release. The romance ended happily when she was returned to her parents and, some time later, the betrothal was announced.

This romance of the Far East is almost outdone by the life-story of Viscount Takahashi who has accepted the Premiership of Japan. He was born in 1851 and in 1867 was sent to America to be educated. Misfortune dogged him, and he fell into the hands of a slave gang who kept him in captivity for some months.

Joe T. Bramel, retired bookkeeper, 105 West Front street, Maysville, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great advantage to me and I contribute fourteen years of my life to them. It was some years ago that I found I had kidney trouble and suffered severely with it. After a long course of Doan's Kidney Pills I became well, and had no trouble for many years. Just recently I noticed my kidneys were again out of order and my system was generally weak. I knew it was a return of the trouble. I did not lose any time in getting a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have given me the same good results and I consider them a wonderful remedy." (Statement given November 15, 1916.)

On November 22, 1920, Mr. Bramel said: "I couldn't recommend a better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills after the benefit they were to me when I was about down and out with the worst form of kidney trouble. New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York -- It was the always-romantic story of fame and glory coming to one who had been hitherto unknown who made the headlines were announced at the Dog Show the other night at Madison Square Garden. Boxwood Hurrentine, an Airedale puppy, owned by F. C. Hood, went from novice to champion of them all, winning the Airedale award first and then the grand prize for being the best American bred dog of any breed in the show. This is the third time an Airedale has won the best-of-all-breeds victory at the show, and every man, woman and child in this part of the country who owns an Airedale or pets a neighbor's is looking proud. With 250,000 dogs owned right in the City of New York, there is rightfully a large amount of local interest in anything affecting them.

Do you know what book is most in demand in the New York Public Library? The cook book? Honestly, from nine in the morning until ten at night, they are incessant use, according to the librarians. Not only by women, either. "It is no uncommon thing to pass out books to as many as six men a day," said one book guard. "New York is famous for its kitchenette population. Probably more men do their own cooking here than anywhere else in this country. Of all people they most need recipes."

It's rather interesting to read advertisements and wonder at what kind of experience the people have suffered who have written them. For instance, in a New York evening paper the other day, some one advertised for an architect and his wife to take a permanent position, the wife to be a sort of hostess, I gathered, and the architect to do architectural, I suppose. And here was this intriguing sentence: "Must be governed by Mid-Victorian ideas, or better, as to domestic relations, but must be otherwise strictly up-to-date." No much confidence in complete up-to-daters in that man's mind!

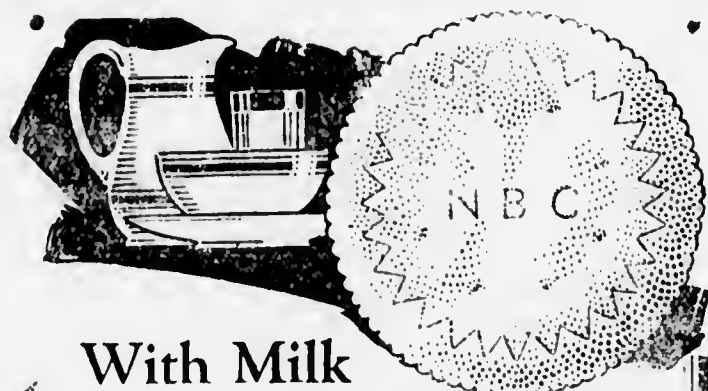

New York has buckled down to its chief problem and has tackled its housing question without gloves. Those who supply money for building operations are getting more business than ever before in the history of the city and the leading mortgage companies are rushed with applications for assistance. Notable among these is the Columbia Mortgage Company, whose president Russell B. Smith foresaw conditions and volunteered the help of his company in the present crisis long before others realized the solution. As a result his company has been forced to move to larger quarters and has bought an entire building at 4 East Forty-third street, in which to house its offices, and to which they will move from the outgrown quarters at 8 West Fortieth street about the first of March.

—NY—
If any announcement in a long, long time will prick the interest of the older generation it ought to be this—that the old Eden Musee is coming to life again—in a motion picture. If there is any high light in the visits to New York of those who were youths twenty, thirty, forty years ago, it is probably that place with its famous old "Chamber of Horrors," and the wonderful wax works, an elaborate chess player which nobody could defeat. Who of you remembers them? I wish that I did; but I've heard enough about them to make them pretty real to me.

—NY—
Every once in a while a foreigner comes to town and gives us lessons in our own talent of "getting along."

This one is staturesque and attractive, which undoubtedly helped. But the idea took brains just the same. She wanted a piano and couldn't afford to rent one. So she went to a famous pianist whom she knew and who was cramped for space. "I have an exceptionally fine piano," she said, "and I'd be delighted to have you come to my studio and practice on it." The pianist was charmed with the suggestion. Then she rushed to a well-known piano company and said, "The great Co-and-so is to practice regularly at my studio. That means that every one worth while in the music center of the city will drop in at one time or another. It will be decidedly worth your while to furnish me with one of your best pianos, for the advertising to you." They agreed. She got her piano free.

HOUSE TO WORK NIGHTS; SENATE SKIPS RECESS

Legislature Speeds Bills to Forestall Danger of Veto at Last Minute.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 24. — Saturday off and night work next week, is the program of the House of Representatives as outlined today by Representative Frank L. Strange of Bowling Green, speaking for the committee on Rules.

Mr. Strange's request that this plan be adopted was acceded to, without great opposition.

As the House has not completed action on the 1922-23 budget bill and still has the 1923-24 measure to take up, other legislation will not be reached before Wednesday, it was estimated.

The Upper House decided by a vote of 19 to 17 to work tomorrow. It will be the first Saturday session.

Republicans voted against the motion, hoping, the Democrats said, to delay legislation until it would be too late to pass party measures over the Governor's veto.

Have your suit "Needle Moulded" to your measurements and description by The Globe Tailoring Co., of Cincinnati. Their representative will be at George H. Frank & Co., on February 27th and 28th.

SIX BUILDINGS BURNED IN SHEPHERDSVILLE.

The fire was discovered at 3:30 o'clock in the two-story frame building of Armstrong & Hall, merchant. The Tucker Hotel was burned as were the stores of Smith & Smith, implement dealers; O. A. Lutes & Company, merchant. A vacant building owned by G. S. Patterson also was destroyed. Other buildings were damaged.

LAWYERS URGE MORE SCHOOL- ING FOR MEMBERS OF BAR.

Washington, Feb. 24. — The national conference of bar associations, at its closing session today adopted practically unanimously the recommendation of the American Bar Association that future members of the bar be required to have at least two years' college education in addition to the regular law school work. The action of the conference was on a resolution which, it had been explained, would place the associations under the moral obligation of striving to have this educational standard set up in their state and universities.

PARIS, KY., EDITOR DIES IN CINCINNATI HOSPITAL.

Paris, Ky., Feb. 24. — William Bruce Miller, 53 years old, former Paris newspaper publisher, died last night in a Cincinnati hospital.

Mr. Miller recently retired owing to ill health as editor of the Paris Kentuckian-Citizen, one of the oldest papers in the country. He learned the printing business under his uncle, the late Bruce Champ, founder of the Bourbon News.

BOAT IS OVERTURNED IN SWOLLEN STREAM.

Irvine, Ky., Feb. 24. — While attempting to cross the Kentucky River, which is at flood stage here, Charles Curd was overturned by the swift current. He was washed down stream and lodged on a swinging limb of a tree. He clung to the limb an hour calling for help. Professor C. W. Campbell, principal of Irvine High school, hearing his call, effected a rescue. Curd was taken to his home, suffering from exposure.

ALCOHOL PLOT IS UNCOVERED.

Chicago, Feb. 25. — Chicago prohibition agents announced here today, following their return from a two-weeks' investigation in three states, that they had uncovered a plot to flood Chicago and other large cities in the Central states with grain alcohol, to be used in making "bootleg" whisky. They said the principals had been arrested in Columbus, Ohio, and that five carloads of alcohol had been confiscated in four different cities.

COLONEL YOUNG'S REMAINS TO BE RETURNED NEXT YEAR

Further Investigation Reveals That Passing Was Due To Bright's Disease—Memorial Service Held.

Washington, D. C. — After consultation with the officials in the state department, and other well known citizens throughout the country, The Associated Negro Press announces Sunday, March 12, as the date for National Memorial Service in honor of Colonel Charles Young, U. S. A., "well known soldier," who died recently in Nigeria, in the service of his country. The final disposition of the body of Colonel Young has not been determined upon. It has been stated that laws would probably not permit bringing the body to this country within a year. Consequently the date for the memorial service was agreed upon.

At the State Department, the Associated Negro Press was informed unofficially that the immediate cause of the death of Colonel Young was Bright's disease. It is thought that he had gone to Nigeria for the benefit of his health.

Mrs. Charles Young, the Colonel's wife, it is learned, is in this country at Wilberforce, Ohio, the country home of the distinguished military officer, where the Colonel's mother is also living. The children are in school abroad.
